President Roosevelt's Reception in Colorado Springs

THOUSANDS TURN OUT TO GREET THE NATION'S HEAD AND HEAR HIS MESSAGE

President Roosevelt left Colorado Springs, standing on the rear platform of the train waving his hat and bowing to repeated shows of applause.

He said many complimentary things about the city, complimented the order and dispatch with which everything had been conducted and promised to return.

To The Gazette he said before leaving, when asked how he had enjoyed the reception here.

"Bully! It's great! Couldn't be better."

Lieutenant Devereux, Congressman Brooks, J. B. Bailey and other Colorado Springs friends accompanied him to Pueblo. To everyone he said that he had enjoyed particularly the ride around the city as it was not only a rest but gave him the opportunity for breathing air that, he said, is an elixir.

To 5,000 people within range of his voice Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, talked on higher citizenship and the duties that devolve upon the individual citizen at the Antlers hotel yesterday afternoon.

Rarely has Colorado Springs been more enthusiastic, never has the city presented a more gala appearance. He was received with a fourish of bugles, with the stirring strains of Hail to the Chief, was driven over five miles of streets decorated with the three colors with thousands of flags, welcoming plaudits and banners, and when the long special train pulled out on its start on the westward trip the band played "Auld Lang Syne" and the cheers continued until it disappeared in a trail of black smoke in the canon.

It was a brilliant scene at the Denver & Rio Grande depot when the president's special arrived at 2:40 o'clock. It was announced a few days in advance of the city in the old west where the populace was at play. From towers and buildings to the skyline waved brilliant bits of color. Thousands in indescribable colors, furnished by spring headgear and toilettes, contrasted with the deep green of the ascending slopes of Antlers park. The brilliant sunshine made dazzling the gold lace and braid of the uniforms and made diamonds of the bayonets of the troops drawn up at attention. Through the avenue leading from the depot to the hotel, which was gay with flags and people, every window, every balcony and the broad verandas of the court being black with spectators, extended an open space occupied by two lines of uniformed men.

At the depot was drawn up in line members of the governor's staff, who had gone to the president's train. They were drawn up in full dress uniform, while facing them was company E, one of the crack companies of the Second N. G. C. In platoon formation, Captain Butler in front, Lieutenant Bartlett in rear, and flanked on the right by Lieutenant Thomas with company D in platoon formation, Lieutenant C. E. S. Young in command. The militia were in field uniforms. Extending in double lines from the depot across the street and well into the park were the High school cadets, the full battalion of men with the drum corps in command of Major Booth. Major Booth was assisted by Adjutant McLain, Captain Merrill, Captain McPherson, Lieutenant Tyler Clark, Bedford, Colton, Sergeant Major Jackson and Drum Major Bowlby. The cadets were clothed in white duck trousers and white gloves and were in full dress uniform of gray. The Colorado National guard, the uniformed men came to rest and the Colorado depot when the [illegible] special arrived at 2:40 o'clock. # Death of Mackey Was Sudden

[illegible] Yesterday

John Mackey, a pioneer of Colorado and El Paso county, died yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of his son, William Mackey, 318 South Institute street.

Mr. Mackey came to Colorado in 1859, and conducted a stage and freighting business in the early days. He also erected the first hotel, a log cabin, in Colorado City, which afterward was used as the state capitol.

Mr. Mackey was in his sixty-ninth year, and leaves a wife and five children, all married, to mourn his loss. Of the children there are three daughters and two sons. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Mary's church, and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

The Johnson Undertaking Co. has charge of the arrangements.

Several New Ways Missed

[illegible] Election Yesterday

W. P. Kinney was elected a member of the board of education for a term of five years, and Mrs. Florence M. Mills was elected to fill the one-year unexpired term of R. C. Thayer at the annual school election yesterday. Mr. Kinney succeeds Judge W. B. Morris, who has served his five-year term and who was not a candidate for re-election. Mrs. Mills succeeds herself, having been appointed a member of the board at the time of Mr. Thayer's resignation several months ago.

The election yesterday was very quiet as compared with the school elections of former years. Only 73 votes were cast. The polling places, the High school, the Fine school, the Washington school and the Lowell school, were opened at 12 o'clock noon and the ballot boxes were closed at 6 o'clock. The light vote is attributed to the lack of opposing candidates and the visit of President Roosevelt.

At 8 o'clock last evening a citizens' meeting was held, as is required by law. Secretary Thompson called the meeting to order, after which M. O. Hennessy was named as chairman and Sid Thompson as secretary. There being no business to come before the meeting no adjournment was taken and the formality was dispensed with. The new board will meet next Tuesday evening, the regular meeting night, and effect an organization.

Railroads Are Adopting

[illegible] Device

L. C. Weyand returned yesterday morning from an extended eastern trip where he has been in the interests of the National Car company of this city. The company owns the Hebring car [illegible], formerly re-roofing in the Hebring [illegible] company.

Mr. Weyand reports that several railroads in the east are considering propositions for the use of the seal on all their cars and states that the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek district railway has already adopted the device and will equip all cars with it. Mr. Weyand will go east again within the next ten days, when he expects to close several deals which are now in progress.

The seal was invented by Mr. Hebring several years ago, but a number of improvements have been made since the first model and the patent is now in such shape that the railroads look with much favor on it, and are considering the advisability of adopting it.

A POSSIBILITY

That Became a Fact and Pleases Many Said People.

A. B. Lewis, M. D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "It's deterioration is a constant source of worriment to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by facts, hair restoratives. The wish that a hair preparation will fill the bill is father to the fancy that it is likely to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does fill the bill. It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness."

CHAIRMAN DUNBAR REPORTS ADDITIONAL SHORTAGE IN BUILDING INSPECTOR'S OFFICE

According to the terms of a supplemental report on the conditions of the Coray shortage made by Chairman Simeon Dunbar of the council finance committee, at the meeting of that body last night, facts have been discovered which would indicate that the shortage of the ex-building commissioner will reach the sum of $3,196, in addition to the shortage of $1,324 already reported.

The report made by Chairman Dunbar was based on a report made to him last night by Expert E. S. Buch, who was employed by Chairman Clark of the old council committee to make an investigation of the conditions of the building inspector's office. The report as made by Mr. Buch is as follows:

The Report.

"From an examination of the books of the water commissioner's office and their comparison with the books of the building inspector's office I find that there have been 702 permits for water taps issued by the water commissioner's office for which there is no corresponding entry on the books of the building inspector.

"It is impossible to determine the exact amount of money involved in this failure, but based upon the amounts paid for water used in the construction of other buildings, and the fees collected for the issuance of the permits for their erection, I would judge that there has been collected by the building inspector under this item the sum of $1,046 for permits issued and $2,111 for the water used in the work of construction. A closer estimate may be arrived at by sending canvassers to the owners and architects of the buildings in question, from whom it is possible that the exact figures may be obtained."

In line with this report Chairman Dunbar stated that the finance committee had decided to employ the canvassers recommended and asked the sanction of the council in the matter.

Canvass Ordered.

Upon a vote this sanction was given and the canvassers will be employed and put to work as soon as possible. Chairman Dunbar stated in reference to the matter that his committee was determined to carry the investigation to the end.

It is stated that the expense so far involved in the investigation did not exceed $100 and that the cost of having a canvass made of the owners and architects of the buildings on which there has been made no report would not exceed $60 additional.

Mr. Buch will be continued, Chairman Dunbar stated, until all the accounts of the offices with which the books of the building inspector are in any way connected have been examined and compared with those of the offices under investigation.

No Record Shown.

"Of the $2,196 of which there is no record on the books of Mr. Coray," he continued, "$1,211 is the amount collected for water used in the construction of the buildings and Mr. Coray is short this amount. In regard to the balance, $1,046, it may be that he is short the entire amount, or it may be that that amount is included in what the law allows as the salary of the building inspector.

"The law provides that the building inspector shall be allowed all of the fees he collects on building permits up to the sum of $1,200. If he collects more than that it must be turned over to the city, if he collects that amount or less it belongs to him. We do not know the exact amount Mr. Coray received from this source, that is, the amount he is known to have received from the books, so we cannot state what part of the $1,046 is an actual shortage.

Only Approximate.

"Again, as Mr. Buch states in his report the sums stated are not accurate, they are only approximate. The early closing of the city offices today cut off Mr. Buch's work and he was only able to make an average. The true amounts involved will only be found as the result of the canvass."

Mr. Dunbar stated further that most of the buildings represented in the number of the 702 water taps mentioned in the report were large contractors and that all the way from five to fifteen such permits were issued to one contractor. He stated that the committee would not close out the names of these contractors for the reason that they were not chargeable with any wrong doing in the matter, and the publication of their names might create such an impression on

TENDERS FOR $402,000 NOW NEEDED

Bids Received for Water Extensions Are Below Par, and Issue May Have to Be Let Over Session

Special Meeting Thursday

The bids submitted for the $402,000 worth of water extension bonds at last night's meeting of the council will have to be thrown out and new bids advertised for, unless the offers made are modified. There were only two bids submitted at last night's meeting, one of them by E. H. Rollins & Sons of Denver and the other by P. D. Shepard & Co. of New York. The bid submitted by the Denver firm was below par, being $96 for each $100 bond. The law of the state does not permit cities to sell their bonds below par and this bid will therefore have to be thrown out. The bid of the New York company was at par for 4½ per cent bonds while the bonds to be issued call for only 4 per cent. This will make the bid of this company below par and unless a change is made in the amount of interest stipulated in the bid, it will also have to be thrown out and new bids advertised for.

The representatives of the respective companies stated to City Clerk MacMillan yesterday that the bond market was glutted and explained their bids of last night by the same statement. "From their representations," stated Mr. MacMillan, "it appears that all the available money of those who are usually bond buyers is tied up in the payment of the interest on big investments that usually fall due in the month of July, and it promises to be again tied up in the movement of the fall crops as soon as released from the paying of interest. If these statements are true it will be almost impossible for the city to sell its water bonds until late in the fall. This, of course, will mean the end to all plans for the construction of improvements in the water works system. The building of the mountain reservoirs, the tunnel through the mountains for the better carrying of water and the construction of the new line to the high line reservoir are all involved in this and the failure to sell the bonds will mean the stoppage of all this work.

"The only outlet is a possible modification of the bids that were submitted last night."

The council will hold a special meeting Thursday to consider the report of the finance committee, to whom the matter has been referred.

SCHOOL BOARD RECTORS AT COLORADO CITY

J. B. Stephens and C. B. Coppock were re-elected school directors of the Colorado City school district yesterday. Mr. Stephens was elected to fill the unexpired term of O. B. Bradfield, who resigned some time ago, while Mr. Coppock was a candidate to succeed himself, his own term having expired. Owing to the lack of competition and the visit of President Roosevelt to Colorado Springs the vote polled was very light.

IMPERSONATED CHARACTER OF "DAVID HARUM"

A large crowd was present at the Y. M. C. A. last night to hear A. F. Howell, of Denver, in his impersonation of "David Harum." The entertainment was given under the auspices of the City Federation and Mr. Howell's work was very well received by his audience and it is expected that on some future date he will be given a good reception. His impersonation of "David Harum" was pronounced the best work of the kind that has been heard here for some time.

STATED ASSEMBLY.—There will be a stated assembly of Zabud council No. 8, R. and S. M. this evening at 8 o'clock and all members of the council are requested to attend. Visiting companions are cordially invited.

V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. All his correspondence is held strictly confidential, and he gives his advice free and without charge.

A MARRIED WOMAN

Very often [illegible] feel it is repugnant to [illegible] to consult their family [illegible] in such a way. They can put [illegible] in Dr. Pierce, who [illegible] has had a success in the treatment of [illegible] diseases, for he will give you the very best advice possible, and will treat you. To grow beautiful, healthy and happy should be the desire of every woman. It is not impossible to hold a husband and to make home happy and bring contentment to it. Nothing is more beautiful and refreshing than to see a woman with a symmetrical form, a cheerful, healthy sparkle in her eyes, an elastic step, graceful walk [illegible] a self-reliance blended [illegible] the most beautiful manner and enveloped in a cloak of self-respect. Ten years ago it was fashionable to be weak, timid and to faint under any [illegible] Present. The woman of today is an entirely different creature. She realizes that it is her duty to make an effort to develop her body and [illegible] and there is no reason why [illegible] should [illegible] kally from pains. [illegible] the ordeal of [illegible] with [illegible] fear because of [illegible] owing to the [illegible] vitality by reason of [illegible] All such [illegible] to the right person [illegible] and good advice. In [illegible] Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription [illegible] the nerves and put the [illegible] in perfect condition. It has [illegible] of the body and mind [illegible] cheerful view, by [illegible] daily drains [illegible] and so cures the cause of much womanly weakness. It heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures the bearing-down pains, which are such a source of suffering to sick women.

A DUTY WOMEN OWE THEMSELVES.

"Good actions speak louder than words," so too, does the testimony of many thousands of women during a third of a century speak louder than mere claims not backed by a guarantee of some kind. That is the reason why the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are willing to offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured. Such a remarkable offer is found on the long record of cures of the [illegible] and weaknesses peculiar to women. If there is an invalid woman suffering from female weakness, prolapsus, or falling of womb, or from leucorrhea who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription without complete success, the original proprietors and makers of that world-famed medicine would like to hear from such person—and it will be to her advantage to write them as they offer, in perfect good faith, a reward of $500 for any case of the above maladies which they cannot cure. No other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its makers in making such an offer.

"I suffered for five years with terrible pains, especially at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation," writes Mrs. Sybil Paine, of 3047 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Ills. "I felt so weak and sick, was sure that I would not survive such an ordeal, and decided that I would not undergo an operation. He tried to persuade me, but I remained firm. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper as to the value of your Favorite Prescription in such an emergency, and I determined to try it. Great was my joy to find that I had actually improved after taking two bottles. I dared not believe that I was getting well but kept up the treatment, and within eleven weeks from the time I took the first dose, I was well. Have gained eighteen pounds, am in excellent health, and seem like one risen from the dead. You surely deserve great success and you have my best wishes."

SUIT BROUGHT

Suit was filed in the district court yesterday by Dr. William A. Shepard against James H. Noyes and John G. Noyes. It is alleged in the complaint that the defendants induced the plaintiff to trade property belonging to him in this city for a farm belonging to them near Plymouth, Michigan, through fraudulent representations. The farm, it is stated, was represented to be worth $12,000 and through other representations regarding its worth Shepard declares that he was induced to transfer property in this city to the value of $7,500, including a half interest in the L. H. Pinkerton Feed Co., and to agree to purchase property to the value of $4,750 which was to be included in the transfer.

It is alleged further that investigation on the part of Shepard proved the Michigan property to be worth not more than $5,000 and judgment is asked for the difference, $7,000. Judgment is also asked on two other counts, one for $645, alleged to be due as a refund because the farm does not contain as many acres as alleged by the defendants, the other for $1,750 alleged to have been deposited as a forfeiture to guarantee the carrying out of the terms of the contract.

A suit in divorce was filed in the office of the district clerk by Nevia Arnold against her husband, A. B. Arnold. Cruelty is alleged as the grounds for divorce, and an injunction is asked to restrain the defendant from interfering with a minor child, Bryan Arnold, aged four years. Alimony is asked in the sum of $10 a week and $100 attorney fees.

Judge Cunningham placed a bond in the sum of $250 for the granting of the injunction and if this amount is deposited with the court the injunction will issue.

E. B. Bernard and J. D. Ford filed suit in the district court against the Aztec Gold Mining company asking judgment on eight different notes amounting in all to about $2,000. The claims are all based on accounts that have been transferred to the plaintiffs by creditors of the defendant company.

James Lacey and David H. Rees, two of the men arrested for conducting gambling houses several months ago paid the fines yesterday that were assessed against them at that time. They were arrested in company with N. B. Hamm, Henry Coby and J. W. Blackwood and fines of $500 and costs were assessed against each of them. They could not pay the fines at the time and gave bonds for payment later. The time was up yesterday in the case of Lacey and Rees and the fines paid. The time for the return of the other men will be due today and tomorrow, and it is expected that the money will be forthcoming in time.

THE MISSIONARY "EXPLOSION"

J. H. Smith, advance agent for John Alexander Dowie, the self-proclaimed Elijah the Third, and servant of Dowie's Church of Zion, is paying Colorado Springs a visit for the purpose of preparing the way for the host of followers of Dowie who are to swoop down upon this city in the near future. Mr. Smith, who has designated himself as "servant" of the church, states that Colorado needs reforming, and that a band of 1,000 followers of Dr. Dowie, all singing hallelujahs, will come here to do it and will gain converts to the church.

"I am making investigations now, and when I have completed them I will return to make my report to Dr. Dowie," said the servant, "and what he will do remains with him. It may be a few weeks or a month longer, but when he does come he will be with a mighty band of 1,000 people."

Mr. Smith came to Colorado Springs yesterday from Denver. He says Denver is much worse than Chicago or New York or any other city that he has visited.

WALLACE MILLER RESIGNS AND THOS O'TOOLE WANTS TO BE NEW BAILIFF

Wallace Miller, bailiff of the county court, resigned his position yesterday morning. He did not accompany his resignation with any words of explanation, but it is understood that it was tendered on account of the press of other business in which Mr. Miller is engaged. Mr. Miller owns a ranch in Gunnison county and conducts a general store at Pitkin. It has stated for some time that he would be compelled to resign unless he could arrange his affairs so as to permit of his giving the necessary time to his outside business. His resignation yesterday states that he was not able to make the desired arrangements, and it is understood that he will devote himself to the business of the ranch and the store.

It is stated that Thomas O'Toole is a candidate for appointment to the vacant position.

FINES IMPOSED IN POLICE COURT

Before Police Magistrate Hammond yesterday Dan Campbell was given the full limit of the law for being drunk on the streets. He was fined $50, which is the highest fine that can be imposed in such a case. Campbell has been arrested three times during the week for the same offense. He has been before the police magistrate and has been fined various amounts, ranging from $5 to the amount assessed against him yesterday. He was not able to pay the fine and was committed to the city jail. It will take him about 27 days to work out the fine on the stone pile. John O'Malley and David Coomba were fined at the same time for the same offense. They were assessed $10 and costs each.

George Boardman, Edward Brown and Henry Williams, the suspicious characters arrested Friday as a precaution in connection with the visit of President Roosevelt, were each fined $20 and costs and committed to the city jail. They will be held about 13 days to work out their fines.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIUMPHAL TRIP ACROSS THE STATE

Great Powwows Welcome Him at Denver and Pueblo—Trouble Here and Rowdyism Break as a Fandango Was One of the Most Pleasant Events of the Day.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, May 4.—Never before in these regions has a public official been given such a royal ovation as President Roosevelt was accorded here today. Denver turned out in the western style to welcome the nation's executive. It was with the feeling of good fellowship. But thousands upon thousands of Colorado boots thronged the streets along the route mapped out for the parade. With backgrounds of handsomely decorated buildings and inspired by the rays of a typical Colorado sun the crowded streets presented a spectacle that has never been equaled in this city.

At 10:25 o'clock this morning the president's train was met at the Union station by the reception committee and the presidential party was escorted to carriages in waiting. The parade started up 17th street and proceeded to the Capitol grounds. Where an immense mass of humanity struggled for positions near the stand erected for the visitor.

The governor's staff, the officers of the U. S. army of the department of the Colorado and the National Guard of the state acted as escorts. In each side of the roadway through the grounds the High school cadets were lined up, and the president's carriage passed them slowly. The president was bowing and doffing his hat in response to cheers, and the people were returning the salute.

Directly behind the president's carriage came the Chief body guard and the other secret service men, and then the colonels of the governor's staff and members of committee on arrangements. Not the slightest confusion was caused, and those entitled to seats on the platform, which was decorated with appropriate green and pink and white carnations. The chair reserved for the president was left vacant for a moment until he looked the multitude over. From the platform the crowd presented a great spectacle.

During President Roosevelt's speech he mentioned the irrigation question, and he made a part of his speech dealt with topics of special interest to Colorado. It is estimated that over 50,000 people gathered at the state house. Never before has such a multitude gathered together anywhere in this state.

At the president's club, and the handshaking reception which lasted 15 minutes, the party entered carriages and were driven to City park. Here several hundred school children had been waiting the president's arrival, and one of them presented to the president a bouquet on behalf of her schoolmates. From the city park the party returned to the station, and at one o'clock left Denver en route for Colorado Springs.

The magnificent silk flag presented to the president by the Daughters of the American Revolution was draped in the president's private car, and for the balance of the trip will act as a reminder of the cordial hospitality extended to him by Denverites.

THE PRESIDENT PARTICIPATES IN A COWBOY BREAKFAST AT HUGO

Denver, May 4.—A special to the Times from Hugo says:

A burst of cheers and cowboy yells greeted the magnificent train bearing President Roosevelt. The president himself, wearing a black frock suit and high silk hat, stepped out of the door and upon the rear platform of the observation car as it came to a standstill directly upon the camp of the great round-up of eastern Colorado, which is just about to start on its travels through the public region. The president removed his hat and acknowledged the greeting, at the next moment he was grasping the hand of his old comrade, Sherman Bell, now adjutant general of Colorado. Governor Peabody also reached up from the track for a shake and then the party, he said: "Come right aboard, gentlemen." While General Bell, Governor Peabody, Colonel Brown, Colonel McDonald, Colonel Tuttle, Congressman Brooks and Mr. Stewart were making their way up the steps the president turned to reach down and shake hands with the Hugo man who crowded around.

"No, really, gentlemen," he said, "I will have to forego the pleasure. I would enjoy nothing better than a stop to take breakfast with you, but I am afraid there is not time."

The chuck-wagon is waiting, Mr. President, and breakfast is ready." The president's nostrils caught a fragrant whiff of good coffee and succulent steak. Following the directions of the committee he passed over the corner of the platform and got a view of an old prairie schooner backed up by the roadside, its rear gate let down and disclosing a full-fledged cowboy cupboard, its battered tinware arranged in shining rows. The regulation scrap of dirty canvas was rigged for an awning to keep the butter from melting in the sun. Two paces to the rear was the camp fire and the ancient and sooty pots that had seen duty in a hundred campaigns on the round-up. The grimy coffee pot hung on an improvised crane and the bouncing lid disclosed the fact that "steers was it." A picket rope was stretched around the cowboy boarding house and a fringe of mounted cowboys drawn close up to it made up a picturesque background.

"Well, well," ejaculated the president, "I should say so. Now I'll just take a go and eat something."

He turned to the steps of the platform and made his way down. The sturdy farmers and cowmen, who had just begun to get a bite of bitter disappointment, were sent into heavens of ecstasy. They threw up their hats and sent out yells that would stampede a herd. Then they hurried pell mell after the president and his party who were already crawling across the ropes of the sacred inclosure. President Roosevelt advanced straight to the fire and shook hands with John Symes, the cowboy cook across it, stirring a pot full of pickle browning potatoes. Each guest is his own waiter on the round-up and the president did not have to be told. He advanced to the sideboard at the rear of the wagon, selected a tin plate and an iron fork. Then he turned around and made for the stove. Symes poured him out a cup full of rich brown coffee, as he stabbed into the frying pan and fished out a steak. He placed it sizzling upon the plate and then reached for a spoonful of potatoes, pulling Keppel at the wheel of the rear of the wagon he proceeded to fall to with a zest that would do credit to the hardiest cowpuncher on the range. He swallowed several mouthfuls and, turning to wash them down with a drink of coffee, he said: "Now, this is a real cowman's breakfast and I am enjoying it."

Governor Peabody and his staff members in full regalia of buckskin and gold lace stood by the wagon with the local committee and chatted with the president as he ate.

A six-footer with a huge sombrero, chaps and spurs pushed into the circle and bowed as low to the wet Mr. Sherman and wanted to shake hands with the president. "I am most delighted to know you, Sherman," said the executive, and turning to the native added, "Let me introduce him to General Sherman Bell, saying: "Here is another man named Sherman. He is not wearing the same clothes as you are now, but he has worn them and I'll guarantee he is as true a cowpuncher as any of you."

Sherman of Hugo grinned and thanked with pleasure.

All this time the men, women and children of the populace banged the picket rope and shouted and were silent by intervals. It was indeed a big event and a rare sight to see the president of the United States treading the dirt of their humble village wearing a silk hat and partaking with real zest of plain grub of the round-up. The president partook of a hearty meal, pulled forth his handkerchief in lieu of a napkin for a finish and the crowd in had never partaken of better grub and made for his train escorted by the secret service men and others. The train pulled out to a veritable cyclone of yips and Hahs and yells in exhibition of rough riding by the attendant cowboys. A score of them rode after the train at full tilt, wild and woolly broncbos bucked and pitched and a great cloud of dust obscured the town of Hugo. A quarter of a mile further the rear was making headway and the cowboys fell to the rear with a few faint yells. President Roosevelt stepped from his car and remarked to his party and Governor Peabody that the stunt stop at Hugo was one of the most enjoyable experiences of the trip.

PUEBLA ARMS MEET TO GREET PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

Pueblo, May 4.—Steel whistles of steel works and smelters are this evening sounding a deafening good-bye to President Roosevelt as his train speeds away to the south and west after a remarkable welcome to him by a hundred thousand people of the Arkansas valley.

The president's special train arrived at the Mineral Palace park on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad ten minutes ahead of time. A military escort accompanied the carriages to a decorated platform that had been built in front of the palace, here the president spoke for about 5 minutes. The weather was bright and delightful and excursionists had come from long distances.

Mr. Roosevelt seemed to enjoy the scene and spoke with hearty enthusiasm. The last portion of the address was especially earnest, saying his trust in the ability of the people of this republic to solve its difficulties and problems not by genius or brilliant acts, but by the exercise of plain and practical common sense and an insistence upon genuine liberty and fair play for each individual.

On the way down town the long procession passed the beautifully situated Centennial school building, where the president addressed several thousand pupils of the public schools. The rest of the way to the union depot was a mile of cheering crowds. ## Two Sessions of City Council Called to Result in Definite Action on the Matter.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, May 4.—Mayor E. N. Mockbee called the city council to order at 2:10 this afternoon, asking the clerk to read the call for the meeting, which was done. The call said that the meeting was for the purpose of hearing and determining the election matters coming before the city council.

Alderman Hanley asked how the contest cases pending were to be handled and wanted to know if the ballot boxes were to be opened.

No, replied the mayor.

Then I move you that the cases pending be dismissed.

This was seconded and carried, but was declared lost.

Attorney Hodge declared that as the council has the rules it could suspend and he asked a right to the floor in behalf of Attorney Ferguson against A. P. Matthews, who contested his seat. His petition was rejected after which a lengthy argument on the demurrer was started by the Democratic lawyers, which ended at a late hour this morning.

This was answered by Attorney George W. Kohn.

The motion of Alderman Hanley on the demurrer was carried by a vote of 6 to 4, and the witnesses were then called and examined, many of them swearing that they had received their second papers when they came to the office at the city clerk's request, contrary to the statement made by Mayor Mockbee at the meeting last night.

The city council was divided on a motion to adjourn, which was carried by a vote of 6 to 4, and the meeting adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

School Election.

According to the law governing the school election, the city council will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock and appoint judges and clerks of election for the school election to be held May 12. The law provides that the judges and clerks shall be appointed by the city council at the first meeting after the 1st day of May, and the council will probably appoint the same judges and clerks as were appointed for the city election.

Town Trouble Here.

Mayor Mockbee was seen this morning relative to the trouble in the town of Victor, and he said that he had received a telegram from Governor Peabody stating that he would be in Victor this afternoon, and that he would be accompanied by Adjutant General Bell. The governor will be met at the depot by the mayor and city council and escorted to the city hall, where he will meet the citizens of Victor and vicinity.

Suit Against Bell.

Suit was filed in the district court this morning by Attorney Hodge in behalf of Mrs. Glasgow, who is suing Sheriff Bell for $10,000 damages for the killing of her husband, Frank Glasgow, during the riots in Victor on the night of June 6, 1903. The petition sets forth that Glasgow was killed by a bullet fired by Bell, and that Bell was not justified in firing the shot. Mrs. Glasgow is represented by Attorneys Hodge & Hodge.

Mrs. Glasgow's Fingers.

The fingers of the Mrs. Glasgow who died at Cripple Creek from grief, exposure and hardships endured during the riots, were amputated at the hospital in Victor, and the fingers were brought to Cripple Creek by Undertaker Price, who prepared the remains for burial.

Deceased was 30 years old and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. The remains will be sent from the undertaking parlors of Price & Price to Pueblo, where the funeral will be held under the auspices of Victor lodge of Elks, of which deceased was a prominent member.

ROOSEVELT REMEMBERS IMPORTANT ANNIVERSARY

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 4.—That President Roosevelt is keeping fully alive with current events during the rush and excitement of his tour in the west is shown by the fact that he took occasion to recognize the anniversary of the great naval victory in Manila bay May 1, 1898, by sending the following telegram to the hero of that occasion.

"Topeka, Kans., May 1, 1903. Admiral George Dewey U. S. N., Washington: On this anniversary of your great service to the nation I wish you all possible happiness and long life.

Theodore Roosevelt."

The delivery of this message was delayed because Admiral Dewey was at sea on the Mayflower inspecting the North Atlantic fleet and did not receive the message until his arrival in the city.

ANOTHER ROCK SLIDE FROM TURTLE MOUNTAIN

By Associated Press.

This morning the largest rock slide since the first disastrous one occurred and caused much uneasiness among the hundred or more who left by Frank. Those who had portable property began to remove it this morning but when the big slide came they fled precipitately. Government engineers went to the mountain this afternoon to mark out blasting spots and clear off the loose rocks. Renewed fears of a flood have been caused by the unexpected rising of the river. Rain is predicted and with the river still practically dammed by rock a flood now would be disastrous.

INNER PURPOSE OF THE KAISER'S VISIT TO ROME

By Associated Press.

New York, May 4.—The visit of the kaiser to Rome while ostensibly one of friendship to the holds which quits the triple alliance, making it a compact of the powers mastering Europe, is supposed to have this time, according to the Tribune's representative in London, a far-reaching object, namely, that of winning the vatican from the influences of France, this being the best moment when the republic is at severe with the Roman church. It is believed that Emperor William has a great plan, namely, that of using the power of Catholicism to create a great colonial empire, especially in South Africa, through the work of missionaries. Thus the emperor took quite extraordinary measures to render his visit to the vatican pleasant and flattering to the amour propre of the papacy, going so far to create even a little uneasiness in Italian liberal circles.

PHILOSOPHIZING OVER RISE OF DELAWARE AND HUDSON

By Associated Press.

New York, May 4.—A rise of over 9 points in the price of Delaware & Hudson stock today caused considerable speculation as to the probable cause thereof.

The real cause for the rise and which was known in a very select circle was the Commercial Advertiser's report to the effect that a large block of the stock had been transferred on the books of the company to the name of J. P. Morgan. This report caused the belief that Mr. Harriman is probably to be elected a director of the company at the annual meeting tomorrow.

The significance of this will be appreciated when it is remembered that railroad men of prominence in the country have been elected directors of the Delaware & Hudson company, and all traffic arrangements between this road and the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Lackawanna railroads have been closed for 10 days. By Associated Press.

London, May 5.—Except as to the number killed, which is now said not to exceed 100, the latest telegrams and advices from Salonica fully confirm the previous reports of the serious nature of the outbreak there.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Turks had received their proclamation and that the garrison was seriously depleted, amounting to only 400 soldiers, the first outrage that was exploited was the explosion of a powder magazine, which shook the city to its foundations. Then the Ottoman bank and other buildings were attacked with bombs, as already has been described, soldiers were hurried up to the scenes of disorder. # STRAYN STAR

Shipments Are Again to Be Made That Sale of the Property Is Pending Production From the Keystone.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, May 4.—A rumor heard in this district to the effect that the Strayn Star property is now pending sale to a wealthy syndicate of eastern men, if true, should this week be made, as they are strictly carrying out the requirements of the will, as in the lease giving the six W. S. Stratton executors to sell his property and put the money into safe investments for the support of the Myron Stratton home at Colorado Springs. That the execs are intending to carry out the express wish of the $2 million-aire is more than likely.

Keystone.

Kinney and others who have the Keystone estate under lease on Bull hill, commenced this morning to make a regular production of one carload of ore per day.

In the stope of the 100-foot level one of the finest ore bodies in the district is being developed, the same stope being opened in the 200-foot level and work was commenced in this part in general this morning.

A 40-ton shipment was started out today by the lessees which is expected to return values of $50 a ton.

Pointer.

Workers opening up on the Little Nellie property on Bull hill are now having a shipment of ore which, from assays taken, will run in the neighborhood of $50 to the ton in gold. The lessees are working in a winze about 100 feet in depth from the third level, or 250 feet from the surface.

Pointer.

Workers commenced operations again on the Pointer property this morning where they expect to maintain work immediately on the old ore body, opened up a short time before work was suspended. Shipments will probably be resumed from this well-known property in the course of the next two weeks. The Pointer has had a very good record. The company paid two dividends, amounting to $10,000, but gave up working on company account when the ore was supposed to have pinched out. Since that time lessees have worked the mine with indifferent success and what the present ore shoot that the lessees started on this morning will prove to be is hard to tell. There is no question in the minds of many miners but that the rich ore shoot worked above extends downward to a considerable depth, but it will take time to prove this prediction.

Trachyte.

Much new development work is in progress on the Trachyte property of the New Zealand company, under lease to the Practical company. It is also said that negotiations are being made by the management of the Practical company for a lease on the Deadwood No. 2, which closely adjoins the property now being worked by this company. The Deadwood has a large shaft to the depth of 250 feet, and in the event that the arrangements are completed, the lower workings of the Trachyte will be operated from the Deadwood shaft.

Hawkeye.

The new machinery for the Hawkeye, property near Gillett is now in place, and active operations on the property commenced this morning. The company started up with a full force of men.

STOCK AND MINE SUSPENDED

Notice was posted yesterday morning on the bulletin board of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock exchange that 21 stocks would be dropped from the list June 1, unless the requirements of the exchange were met prior to that date. The Agnes, Alamo, Bonifacio, Lucota, Santa Fe and Triumph companies have notified Secretary Kinney that they do not intend to re-list their stocks after June 1 and these stocks are included in the notice posted. Black Bells will not be re-listed.

Other stocks included in the list to be dropped June 1 are Aston, Anna May, Blue Bell, Buckhorn, Colonial Dames, Colfax, Copper Signal, Cumberland, DeBeers, Emma Aimes, Flower of the West, Flying Cloud, Horseshoe, Hermosa, Jean L., Leo, Le Roi Mont, Lucrative, Magna Charta, Ontario, Rattler, Shannon, St. Thomas and Virginia M. These companies have given the exchange no notice of their intention in the matter.

All companies included in the list have the privilege of remaining on the list by conforming to the rules of the exchange before June 1 and it is expected that several of them will take advantage of this opportunity.

REGARDING AFFAIRS OF ARGENTUM-JUNIATA CO.

It is stated that foreclosure proceedings will be instituted shortly against the property of the Argentum-Juniata Mining company at Aspen. The judgment against the company amounts to about $55,000 and an effort was made to liquidate the debt, by asking for voluntary subscriptions. A few were forthcoming and those who have subscribed were given notes due May 1. In order to protect those who have responded to the request it is understood that the company will be reorganized after the foreclosure proceedings and the Colorado Title and Trust company will act as trustee. J. A. Hayes of this city is president of the company and C. E. Palmer is vice president.

SHIPMENT FROM A CRIPPLE PROPERTY

A shipment is being made from the head of the Antero hill, the Washington mine at Granite which is expected to run in the neighborhood of $50 to the ton, the rock coming from the same ore shoot as several of other cars which have returned values upwards of this amount. A new find was opened several weeks ago and development work is being pushed. The rock is not being mined very often on account of its character, but the ore thus far taken shows values which are not of a high grade.

"Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla." We say it, and the doctors say it, too. Ask your own doctor about it. He probably has the formula. He can tell you just how it lifts up the depressed, gives courage to the despondent, brings rest to the overworked.

If your liver is sluggish, bowels constipated, tongue coated, better take one of Ayer's Pills at bedtime. These pills greatly aid the Sarsaparilla, and cure all liver troubles. Two grand family medicines. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report from J. S. Bache & Co., to Otis & Hough, Bankers and Brokers, 127 Pike's Peak Ave.

New York, May 4.—The market today was better and general strength shown was better than witnessed for some time. The advance in Delaware & Hudson in the early morning attracted favorably to the other anthracites. The rise followed next and were very active and showed exceptional strength. Reports from the west regarding crops were sufficiently encouraging. The earnings reported for the third week of April and for the month of March in a number of the roads continued to show good results. This is the first Monday in months where the market has not only maintained its opening prices but advanced. We believe this foreshadows the beginning of a bull campaign and we look for better prices.

Mellvire & Marshall: The improvement in today's market, following Saturday's rather poor bank statement, was somewhat unexpected, especially in view of the apathy of the London markets and continued absence of outside investment or speculative buying of importance, and strength in foreign exchange with the rate still hovering at the gold shipping point. The short rise in D. & H. was on scattered buying, following selling orders. The stock is said to be earning 20 to 25 per cent, and has a surplus of undivided profits of $15,000,000. Atchison will sell ex-dividend tomorrow and there was a good deal of buying of that stock for this dividend. Pennsylvania also sells ex-dividend tomorrow and there was good buying of that stock also for the dividend and also for the rights to subscribe for the new stock which holders of record of May 8 will have the privilege to the extent of one-third of their stock at a price equal to 120. This rally is likely to progress a little further, but tomorrow there will be some unfavorable developments to contend with in the nature of a very bad government crop report on cotton.

CHICAGO GRAIN & PROVISIONS

Furnished by Logan & Bryan to Otis & Hough, Bankers and Brokers, 127 Pike's Peak Ave.

Chicago, May 4.—Wheat—Liverpool unchanged to ¼d higher. Paris ¼c to ½c higher. Antwerp, unchanged. Market here was fairly active and irregular, it sold up early on the cables and supply talk, selling by Prospect of little better weather and the influence of bearish reports of maturing by reason of the recent rains and cooler weather. It also was influenced by the report of a Liverpool seller of July wheat. Offerings were only moderate, export demand was light. The different markets early reported high temperatures and rains from the winter wheat belt and prospects for harvesting in Nebraska. Nothing doing in foreign exchange. The weather bulletin issued tonight predicts warmer weather and rains. There was a good deal of covering of May shorts, but the market is still unsettled. Closed ¼c to ¾c higher. Corn—Higher with wheat, weather and rather bullish country reports together with a poor cash demand made a good deal of local selling necessary. March of course felt the pressure most, but the support on the whole was good. Export business reported for the day was small. Estimated cars, 340.

Oats—In sympathy with the wheat and corn and on better weather prospects, the tone of market was weak. There was also a pressure from shorts, led by a prominent local bear. The cash demand was light and unimproved and on the whole is slow. Estimated cars, 300.

Provisions—The market was irregular and on the whole without much change. Dullness of the congested condition of May pork continues, July and September pork is out of line with nibs and lard, and there was some buying of these by local packers. In the main, however, speculative trade was dull. Quotations furnished by Otis & Hough.

"There has been a great epidemic of the grip in this vicinity for the past two months," says W. Dr. Wilcox of Logan, N. Y. "All of my customers that I could induce to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy were cured without the aid of a doctor; only two employed a doctor and they did not use this remedy. They could have saved money by using it." Money is not all that this remedy saves. It saves health and sometimes life. Every cold or attack of the grip weakens the system, lowers the vitality and paves the way for more serious diseases. Make a friend of this remedy and it will save you health and wealth. The Linoleum Department

In the Rebuilding Sale.

See Our Big Ad. on Page 6.

During the alterations our Carpet Department will suffer to a greater extent than any other department in the store, as it is located on the second floor, the front and back walls of which both come out and part of the roof comes off. A large part of the carpet stock must be moved or sold. Moving and storing carpets is an expensive proceeding.

We can handle money with greater ease and much less expense than carpets during these alterations. Profits will not be considered. Prices will be cut even more recklessly than in the Down Stairs Departments.

CITY COUNCIL

Reports Received, Ordinances Introduced, Bills Allowed and Appointments Made.

At the meeting of the city council last night several appointments were confirmed, some new ordinances introduced, a transfer of funds was made and several reports received. Both were reappointments.

Last night's meeting of the council was marked by the unusual amount of business transacted. It was the first real business meeting of the new body and much work which had accumulated from the old council was disposed of and many reports were made covering work for the future. The report of the finance committee relative to the increased coupon shortage and the printing of bills for the $150,000 worth of water extension bonds were the most important items before the body. Many other questions came before the members, however, which demanded quick attention. The report of the finance committee besides dealing with the coupon shortage reported the acceptance of a temporary bond of City Treasurer Hoagland. It also recommended that the council take up the matter of fixing the bond permanently at a future meeting. This will doubtless be done and the bond increased from its present figure of $100,000.

Street Committee's Report.

The street committee reported the placing of several new lights and asked for further time within which to consider the communication from the chamber of commerce asking that all property holders on the streets between Cascade avenue and Weber street and Pike's Peak avenue and Cache la Poudre street be required to lay cement sidewalks. Under their report the city engineer was directed to draw plans for the building of a bridge over the railroad tracks on East Fountain street, the same to cost $1,400; for the building of a conduit on Cortijo street over Shooks run to cost $4,200; for the construction of retaining walls on Fountain and Tejon streets, to cost $2,000; for the laying of conduits on Cucharas street and Nevada avenue, to cost $3,000; for the paving of the alley back of the old city hall, to cost $200.

The report of the police committee recommended the spending of $1,500 for the installing of the new police patrol system, but under the ruling of City Attorney Shea or, it was decided that it would be impossible to go over the amount of the appropriation $1,000. The ordinance committee reported the Humane society ordinance regulating the construction of chicken coops, the treatment of dumb animals and the care of children. These ordinances were ordered sent to the printer.

Ordinances Passed.

An ordinance was passed giving the D. & R. G. Railway company authority to designate a certain place for a carriage stand at their depot. The same authority is given to the Santa Fe. The ordinance regulating the charge for carrying baggage and passengers was referred to the printer. As amended it provides that no more than 50 cents shall be charged for 100 pounds of baggage and no more than 50 cents for each additional 100 pounds. It also provides that no more than 50 cents shall be charged for passengers within a radius of one mile from the railroad station. A license of $10 a year is also provided, payable on August 1.

Bills Allowed.

Bills for the month of April were allowed for the various departments of the city. They amounted in all to $21,892.72. The thirteenth payment to Lynn Atkinson, builder of the city hall, was ordered paid, amounting to $13,300. This leaves $14,200 still due under the contract. A bill was introduced providing for the establishment and maintenance of a public library. The bonds of the various city officers, chosen at the late election, were read and approved.

Under the head of reports of officers City Physician P. O. Hanford submitted his monthly report, showing the number of deaths for the month of April to have been 26, births 32, death rate 10.36, death rate exclusive of tuberculosis, 8.19. The population of the city is estimated at 30,000. Chief Butts of the fire department submitted a report showing that there had been nine alarms of fire turned in during the month. The city engineer's report showed $1.00 collected from grades furnished. The report of the police magistrate showed $117.50 collected from fines. The report of the building commissioner showed $18 collected from building permits between April 1 and 30. Treasurer Voorhees's report for April showed $122,-(78.8) on hand the first of the month, $30,-304.5 collected from all sources, and $88,-825.3 expended for all purposes.

ITALIAN ROCK DRILLERS ON STRIKE IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

New York, May 4.—The strike of Italian rock drillers and diggers took a more serious turn in the Bronx today and fifty policemen were sent to keep order along the excavation for water mains, where men are working in the strikers places. A rumor was circulated among the 1,200 men at work that 3,000 others would march out today and try to induce them to quit. The police are picketed along the excavation and all Italians near it and non-union are ordered to move. Crowds of Italians, however, marched near and cursed harshly at the men in their employ. Agent Landau of the Italian Labor union said there were 18,000 men on strike in the city and that all work in the Bronx soon would be stopped. A big box of explosives which was in a shanty for the excavation work in the Bronx was ordered buried by the police, and two guards were detailed over to watch it. Soon after the action of the Central Federated union in indorsing their demands the laborers employed on the subway extensions on Lenox avenue and the tie up of work was as complete as on Saturday.

dent in the lead, his party following. The balcony was gained. This was also crowded and as on the west side of the house all the windows were occupied. A space immediately in front had been reserved and as soon as the party gained this spot Sergeant McNaw and his details of policemen stretched a rope shutting them off from encroaching by the 400 who had balcony invitations. There was a delay for some moments. Chairman W. W. Wood of the reception committee looked at his watch and found that the president had reached the [illegible] ahead of the schedule time, so the party waited until the band, the drum corps and the uniformed ranks had filed through the hotel and taken up their positions inside the ropes, guarding them. The mayor and the president conferred.

On the Balcony.

"What do we have?" questioned the chief executive. "This is a good place to speak from, if it wasn't for the remoteness of the people." The program was explained to him. When told of the drive he exclaimed, "Good, good. I am only afraid that from here it will be a difficult matter to make myself heard. How long must I speak?"

Mayor Harris informed him that the speech necessarily must be short. The High school cadets were filling in to the position assigned them on the street and the president remarked that he would wait until all the different organizations were in place. He remarked again, "I shall try to talk long from here because it will be impossible to make the crowd hear." After consultation with the members of the reception committee, the president, Wayne Du Slocum forward and the president of Colorado college climbed on the roll top

When the committee had expressed the thanks of the colored people of the city for the stand the president took on the race question, he said: "The only thing I can do is to do what is right, though sometimes that is very hard to do. This is really a very valuable souvenir of my visit."

The lowering of the platform for the letting of the crowd through caused some little confusion, but finally the same was accomplished, the drive to substantial order as was announced in the Gazette yesterday.

The president, with Mayor Harris, Doctor Slocum and Governor Peabody occupied the first carriage. The second was occupied by the secret service officials.

In the twelfth carriage, in addition to those already announced, R. L. Chambers and Dr. E. J. Robinson, superintendent Deitrich of the public schools and O. E. Ermenway occupied seats. Several members of the governor's staff had mounts and escorted the carriage of the president. Detective Joel Atkinson of the Colorado Springs police force, detailed to act as personal body guard of President Roosevelt while the latter was in the city, was among the outriders. The mounted escort under command of Postmaster Dana was long enough to extend the entire length of the procession on each side. It was a brilliant appearing cavalcade, headed by mounted officers of the police force. Officers A. T. Pooley and Henry Cornell, Chief of Police King and Captain of Police Parr to the right of the carriage and Marshal Birdsall and Officer Armstrong to the left. Behind the carriage were Officers D. H. Bennett, C. E. Ruhn, M. C. Mabley, George Bains, Chap Fisher and T. W. Davis. North Cascade and in fact all the streets traversed on the drive were well decorated.

Attracted Attention.

The first decoration that attracted the president's attention was the Stars and Stripes flying above the Union Jacks at the residence of Dr. York at the corner of Cascade and North Cascade. There was a enthusiastic little chap, Charles Leland Buster, son of A. W. Buster, who was mounted on a pony a size diminutive as himself, who bore alongside the presidential carriage smiling and waving his hands. The school children, who were massed on the two sides of the street from Platte to Pikes Peak, gave a deafening cheer and the president kept continually bowing and smiling.

The School Children.

The entire party was struck by the spectacle presented of two long lines of uniformed red, white and blue.

It was a credit to the presidents visit that which there could have been none more beautiful. Fully 1000 in number they were stationed on either side of the avenue. Most were waving small flags, those of the high school being the largest, then the high school pupils next, the eighth grade and so by grades all along the line, culminating at Wahnetta avenue with the very youngest of the school children.

By especial request of Professor Dietrich children on every other part of the drive route were to travel at a brisk trot for the very blocks or so that by the school children the horses were brought down to a walking gait. Thus all had a full glimpse of the president, whom they cheered to the echo. Meantime President Roosevelt kept a continual bowing and smiling upon first one side of the street and then the other.

Then the children burst forth anew when the twelfth carriage passed the line, in honor of Professor Dietrich, superintendent of schools and C. E. Hemenway, president of the board of education. These gentlemen shared the honors of the day with the president so far as but part of the program was concerned.

A feature adding much to the scene was the tasteful decoration of the trees for the blocks set apart for the children, with many flags, devices and the profusion of bunting in graceful folds, festoons and other designs.

In speaking of the affair afterward Professor Dietrich said that great credit is due to the principals and teachers of the several schools represented for the splendid order maintained, and the pupils themselves for their part in the conduct. Principal A. T. Reed of the Lowell and Principal J. W. Bell of the Garfield school had general supervision of arranging the children and the decorations. The ma[illegible] janitors, so pendered valuable assistance as special police in patrolling the line and looking after the safety of every one.

On College Campus.

The only school buildings coming within range of the president's drive were those of the Steele and the High school. Each were very attractively decorated under the supervision of the respective principals, A. Dawley and George Meyers.

At the college campus, under the leadership of Professor Allers, who waved a Union Jack flag, the students, in front of the building garbed in cap and gown, gave the following yell repeatedly:

THE GRAND JURY

Possesses New Quarters.

The grand jury will hold its future meetings in the new county court house. The session yesterday was a short one and no testimony was taken. Shortly after the jurymen had convened they adjourned to the new county court house for the purpose of examining rooms to see if they could secure quarters. The regular jury rooms are not yet completed, but they were told that they could use the rooms to be occupied by Justice of the Peace Ruby in the basement of the building. The janitor of the building was directed to have the room in readiness for use by noon today and during the morning the furniture now being used in the old court house will be moved to the new quarters.

It is understood that a number of witnesses will be examined during the course of the afternoon relative to the investigations that have already been begun.

GUARD ASSEMBLES AT COLUMBUS

By Associated Press.

Columbus, Ohio, May 4.—The Interstate National Guard association of the United States opened here today with 25 states and territories represented. Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Sanger with a staff of regular army officers are present.

Among the speakers at the afternoon session were Secretary of War Root, Assistant Secretary of War Sanger, and Judge Advocate General Davis, U. S. A.

Secretary Root was greeted by enthusiastic applause. Speaking of the new militia law he said:

Some have supposed that after the passage of the law a code of decisions would be issued, defining certain parts of the law and its application, and passages in the bill. Nothing could have been more unfortunate than such a belief. The code is very broad, it will have to be applied to many conditions arising in different communities.

There are only two ways of raising an army, by conscription or by voluntary service. The national guard is the great school of the volunteers. It is not intended that the national government shall pay the expense of maintaining the guard, but it is intended that it shall add to the efficiency, the strength and the dignity of the guard.

"A question now being considered is the minimum of the company and it is a serious one. It should not be fixed so as to kill the organization of a company, but it should be fixed so as to secure a body of men sufficiently large to be of service in the field. The militia of the several states that are not so in the regular sense of the word are to be considered what they are to be, and be trained to do that kind of training and many other things are to be considered.

"Mr. Secretary" he said, "I do not believe that the regular and the national guardsmen will be driven closer together than happens that jealousies exist between the officers of the two branches but that is to be avoided by hard and sincere work. After the united maneuvers we feel that we are even the officers of both boards under thinking a great deal of the spirit of brothers. The elements of one are needed by the other.

"The new law ought to be very helpful in raising volunteers, but trouble will arise in the cities. The requiring five days training is also to be considered. What

[illegible] SAY: "WE ARE NOT READY [illegible] SCHOOL CHILDREN."

There was an interesting conversation between President Roosevelt and Mayor Harris and Governor Peabody during the ride over the city. The president, surrounded by the secret service men, members of the party and the reception committee, bowing and smiling to the thousands, stepped into the carriage assigned to him and settled himself comfortably with a nod to the mayor as the Midland band struck up and the procession started up North Cascade. The governor called attention, as the Alta Vista hotel was passed, to the peak and the range which, because of the clearness of the atmosphere, loomed into the clouds with an impressive effect.

"Have you ever seen a prettier sight, Mr. President?" was the question that drew out an enthusiastic expression from the chief executive.

"It is the most magnificent view in the world, I think."

As the platoon of police preceding the president's carriage approached Platte avenue, where the 4,000 school children extended on either side of the avenue long lines of waving flags, which were shaken vigorously while teachers, children and parents joined in one mighty shout, the president turned to the mayor and said:

"You are not guilty in Colorado Springs of race suicide."

He continued: "This is a magnificent outpouring for any city. It is one of the most gratifying things I [illegible] I have seen on my trip. They are the coming citizens. I have a very tender spot for all children. I have some of my own and it is more of a pleasure than I can describe to return from a trip and to be welcomed by them."

"You said, Mr. President, in your speech that you were impressed with the quality of the children in Denver. What do you think of ours here?"

"They are all right both in quality and quantity."

Three times during the drive the president said that Colorado Springs was the most beautiful city in the world for its size.

"Colorado Springs audiences are very intelligent," said the president. "It is a remarkable city, gentlemen. It is a strange thing to recollect what our rapid civilization has done for us. A few years ago this was all wilderness. Today we are riding through one of the most enlightened cities of the union. I am more than impressed with the greatness and the still greater possibilities of the west."

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

"Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, rah, Roosevelt."

The pace was quickened going down Audley place and from this street on all almost every block children were lined up in charge of nurses and the streets resounded with the cheers of coming citizens and were gay with waving flags. At Nevada and Columbia there was a large and enthusiastic crowd. Many automobiles followed the procession and one of the party estimated that at least 7,000 snap shots were taken by kodakers at the president. There was also a procession of cyclists, their wheels being decorated by red, white and blue bunting. At Boulder and Nevada, near the High school, where was another great gathering of children and constant cheering. The High school was reached at 4:45 o'clock. The tower was decorated with a huge flag. The cadets were lined up at attention. As the president passed the Y. M. C. A. building there was cheering and recognizing it as the edifice where he had laid the cornerstone in August, 1901, he gave it an especial bow.

At the Y. M. C. A.

The beautiful new Y. M. C. A. building, whose cornerstone was laid on a former visit, by Vice President Roosevelt, was in gala array yesterday and presented a splendid appearance. That the president was disappointed not to have been permitted to halt for a moment or two and have at least a fair view of the exterior of the building, onlookers were well persuaded. He stood up in the carriage, hat in hand, bowing and keeping his eyes in the direction of the association until the carriage was whirled into Bijou street. At Tejon and Bijou street the drill corps of the G. A. R. veterans began to play. The court house was well decorated with two huge flags and cross streamers and in front of the old city hall the fire department was drawn up, steamers and engines being decorated and the drivers and engineers at attention. As the procession turned down Pikes Peak avenue to the front the high school cadets were again at present arms. At the Antlers the crowd was kept back by the Knights of Pythias.

Three or four hundred people rushed across Antlers park and assembled at the depot to bid good-bye to the president. The Midland band played "Hail, Columbia" and the Midland march. After greeting several of his former troopers it was with difficulty that a passageway could be cleared to the train. While standing on the rear platform the crowd clamored to shake hands, but the president smilingly refused. His last words were to Colonel Davis of the National Guard. President Roosevelt said:

"May I, through you, thank the members of the National guard for the courtesy they have shown me. I wish I could thank them personally."

The party reached the depot 15 minutes ahead of time. The driver of the president's carriage was Charles Lacey, a driver in the employ of T. S. Hayward. Everything in the procession with the exception of the last three surreys were open landaus.

Extended Thanks.

Chairman Wood last night desired public acknowledgement to be made that he extended his best and sincere thanks to all the bodies and organizations and citizens in general for their assistance and co-operation in making the reception such a great success. He wishes that all bills for printing, messenger service, carriages, etc., should be presented to him as chairman of the reception committee as rapidly as possible. Especially does he wish to give thanks to Henry Russell Wray of the chamber of commerce for his indefatigable efforts and assistance. There was no accident throughout the day and perfect order was maintained in every particular. The reception just died the concluding remark that President

KENYON, HOW'S THOSE POUNDS OF YOURS?

President Roosevelt has many personal friends in Colorado Springs. He has been here three times before. Occasionally he would recognize a face he knew in the crowd and immediately would shout out "Hello, old man." This was the case with Joe Kenyon. The president had been hunting with Joe and remembered the fine dogs that accompanied him. Kenyon was one of the outriders yesterday. As soon as Mr. Roosevelt caught sight of him he waved his glove-ed hand then made a trumpet of it and asked above the noise of the cheering, "Kenyon, how's those hounds of yours?"

THE FAMOUS GROTTO AT LOURDES MAY BE CLOSED

By Associated Press.

Paris, May 4.—The closing up of the grotto at Lourdes in connection with the dispersal of the congregations threatens to result in severe financial losses to that locality through the stoppage of the pilgrimages. A delegation from Lourdes which waited on Premier Combes today was assured that the grotto will not be closed until the courts have passed on the matter. This was considered equivalent to a continuance of the grotto.

A disorderly crowd at Nantes today made a manifestation at the trial of some friars there. Detachments of cavalry occupied the streets and many arrests were made.

ONLY FIVE LAUNDRIES IN CHICAGO OPEN FOR BUSINESS

By Associated Press.

Chicago, May 4.—Only five out of the 161 laundries in Chicago were open for business today. Thirty-five hundred laundry workers are idle and when the drivers, engineers and firemen are added the total number of persons thrown out of employment will make 5,000. President Wilson of the Laundry Workers' union says the lockout has strengthened their case and that hundreds of applications from non-union workers are being received at headquarters.

The rumor was persistent tonight that the executive board of the Laundry Workers' union had decided to submit their case to arbitration. Neither President Wilson nor Business Agent Cannon of the union would admit that this decision has been reached but among the members of the union the [illegible] was given general credit.

Kieff, European Russia, May 4.—Thousands of poor Jews have fled from this city because of the reports that an anti-Semite crusade is imminent. The richer Jews have left their houses and have sought refuge in the hotels. In order to allay the excitement troops are patrolling the streets and the walls are placarded with notifications that assemblages are prohibited and that the military will use their weapons unsparingly in case of necessity.

VERY LITTLE EVIDENCE AGAINST ACCUSED PRIEST

By Associated Press.

Loretto, Col., May 4.—Father Walsh was to have his preliminary hearing right here in my office today and I had to use the calaboose [illegible] possession against the mind in my judgment I think I would feel like it was the remark made by Marshal King today when asked what he thought of the charge of murder against Father Walsh, growing out of the killing of Miss Reichlin. The preliminary and Prosecutor Strauss held a [illegible]

Prosecuting Attorney Strauss stated today that in his opinion the evidence at hand was not sufficient to warrant holding Walsh to appear before the grand jury. However, said he, the officers are working upon the case along a line in which they will expect to get all developments. Mr. Strauss has given the same to offer to the relatives of the murdered girl for their inspection. "It is well known," he said, "that the law holds the county liable for any harm that may come to a prisoner at the hands of a mob, hence our action in placing Walsh under arrest was justifiable even if his guilt cannot be proven."

The inquest over the remains of Miss Reichlin will be held tomorrow and it is probable that it is hoping to be given Father Walsh will follow the inquest, Father Walsh will be a witness in the inquest. The priest positively refused to see newspaper men in his cell at the jail today, but it was stated he was in good spirits, having passed a comfortable night. He also expressed himself satisfied that all would be right tomorrow. Father Horst of Vermillion, who was stricken in the mass at Miss Reichlin's funeral, made the statement today that five attorneys had volunteered their services to defend Walsh, and that an unlimited sum of money would be forthcoming to help him in the event that his case ever goes to trial.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT.

THE visit of President Roosevelt to Colorado Springs, brief though it was, was a success in all respects.

The weather was good, the crowds were large, the decorations were lavish and no untoward incident occurred to mar the occasion.

We do not know with what measure of enthusiasm the president has been greeted at other points along his route, but in Colorado at least, there has been a generous outpouring of citizens without distinction of race or politics, to greet the chief executive of the nation.

His address was in good taste, largely dwelling upon the duties of citizenship, and was delivered in his accustomed earnest and vigorous manner. It was listened to with the deepest interest and applause followed his well-rounded periods.

President Roosevelt has learned the art of addressing large crowds in the open air. He first demanded that vehicles be excluded and that noise-producing agencies be kept as far away as possible. Then by uttering his words with vigor and deliberation his address was heard by a surprisingly large number of auditors.

While his hasty survey of the city was not his first view of Colorado Springs, he was undoubtedly glad to be given another opportunity to see this thrivin and beautiful city. All along the drive crowds of people gave him their tribute of respect and admiration. The massing of the school children was an especially attractive feature.

The people of Colorado Springs are always glad to welcome the president of the United States and when that president is Theodore Roosevelt it is much like greeting an old acquaintance.

New York city has been experimenting with the matches, and has promulgated a brand new set of regulations regarding them. No one, unless he has a license, may sell or even give away matches. They cannot be sold with more than a thousand in a box, they must ignite only with little noise, and the heads must not fly off. Each dealer must have his name and address on each box. These rules were called forth by numerous fatal accidents which have occurred in the last few years in New York which have been traceable to matches. But whether or not the number of these accidents and fires which have taken place will be materially reduced by the new ordinance, remains to be seen.

A New England congressman declares that all legislation is party legislation and that when a man becomes a free lance he uses all power and influence is his party. It is pretty nearly true that half a dozen men make the laws in this country and that if a man ventures to disagree with their fiat he gets momentary applause but is afterward likely to be ignored. There is little place in congress for the independent or the free lance. Cushman of Washington and Boutell of Maine are two examples of men who ran for a brief momentary fame, but are now sidetracked by the machine.

One of the New York newspapers has hit upon the phrase "the alternating current of law in this state." This appears to be pretty "pat." The way in which one court in that state has been reversing the other must have a tendency to get lawyers and litigants pretty well mixed up. In two important cases recently, the eight-hour law and the franchise case, the court of appeals has reversed the supreme court, which in turn reversed the lower court. So then, legislators and people can never be quite sure until the last word is said.

The funniest situation which has prevailed at Harvard university for a good many years is an indignation meeting held by the students because the college police confiscated their stolen signboards. Has a college man no rights?

So far as heard from, not a Colorado Springs baby has arrived.

A LESSON OF THE ILLINOIS CONTEST.

THE row in the Illinois legislature over the traction bill, and which precipitated a riot in the house hour, has finally been settled by the passage of what is known as the Mueller bill.

In this matter, as in some others, the advocates of a so-called reform measure overreached themselves. Speaker Miller, in his advocacy of the Lindley bill, was tyrannical and unjust in his rulings and precipitated a conflict in the assembly. He would not even permit a vote to be taken upon the Mueller measure because he alleged that there was bribery in connection with it. His action brought matters to a crisis, and he was forced to act in a constitutional manner.

The result has been that many members who were lukewarm on the subject came over to the Mueller bill, and it passed the lower house by considerably more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

The measure, as passed, authorizes cities to acquire, construct, own, operate and lease street railways. Its provisions are, of course, particularly applicable to the city of Chicago, and it is expected that that will be the first city to take advantage of the measure. The bill provides that the city shall operate the street railways of it may lease them to any incorporated company for a period of not longer than twenty years. It is provided that a three-fifths vote of the citizens, in order to operate the system, shall be necessary, and for a majority vote in case of a lease for a period of over five years.

In the acquirement or construction of street railways, the city may issue its bonds, and it is provided that a sufficient charge must be made for fares and the like in order to fully meet all expenses of maintenance, interest, etc.

The real purpose of the measure, however, while it provides for municipal ownership, is not the acquirement and operation of the Chicago street railways by the city. Its purpose is to enable the citizens to hold this bill over the heads of the traction corporations and compel them to accede to such demands as the council may deem just and proper. Inasmuch as present franchises are about to expire, the terms of new franchises will be made much more acceptable to the citizens of the city of Chicago. It has been a hard fight, but if one may judge from the view of citizens of all shades of political opinions, it has been a very successful campaign in behalf of the people. And if it shall succeed, as is hoped, in producing a settlement of street railway affairs in Chicago, it will be worthy of all commendation.

The winning streak of the Colorado Springs baseball team is a source of enjoyment to every lover of the game. With six games played thus far there has only been one lost and that was only after a hard fight. The team appears to be much better on the whole than last year. It is composed of seasoned players, who can hold well and bat very much better than the team did last year. Should nothing occur to mar the present fine condition of the men, Colorado Springs will make a strong fight for the pennant.

One of the remarkable features of the day in Colorado Springs was the good order which prevailed in front of the Antlers during the speech of President Roosevelt. Notwithstanding the immense crowd all was as quiet as a church and the speech could be heard distinctly at the Gazette building nearly a block away. It was a fine tribute to the chief executive and demonstrates that people can be quiet if they wish to be so.

The cow punchers of Hugo won out after all in their determination to have the president take a cowboy breakfast with them. Though the train was only scheduled to stop three minutes the odor of juicy beefsteaks and coffee and biscuits proved too much for him and the schedule was broken then and there. No doubt he enjoyed it more than he does the average ten-course dinner.

Colorado Springs did herself proud yesterday in her display of flags and bunting in honor of the president. The decorating was very general in the business sections and along the line of march. Colorado Springs is a peculiarly attractive city, and has many opportunities for a fine display.

The president's Colorado day began at sunrise and lasted till long after sundown. In fact it was after midnight when the last hurrah was given him.

Yesterday's weather was a credit to the Pike's Peak region. There was not even a dust storm to mar the felicity of the occasion.

SHORT STORIES

Dr. Long and Mr. Wu.

John Luther Long, author of "Madame But erfly" and "Naughty Nan," tells a story of a meeting with Wu Ting Fang at a Philadelphia reception. Mr. Long was introduced to the Chinese minister as the author of "Madame Butterfly."

"Oh, the book about China?"

"No, about Japan."

Wu Ting Fang shrugged his shoulders contemptuously.

"Why don't you write a book about China? That would be worth while. How many books have you written?"

"Five."

"Then you must be rich."

"No no."

"Why seems you rich?"

"One do not get rich writing books."

"Then why do you write them?"

"Because I like to do it."

"How long does it take you to write a book?"

"Sometimes a long while, sometimes not so long."

"You shouldn't get paid so well for those you take a short time. What did you come here for?"

Some one diverted the illustrious Chinaman's attention. The author promptly retired from talking gun rings.

One of Lincoln's Best.

The world is indebted for the preservation of this anecdote to the late Senator Voorhees of Indiana, who related it in Washington not long before his death. As Voorhees told it, Lincoln had in court a case in which he felt no great confidence and, probably to a lawyers (the opposing counsel) touched lightly on its merits, but paid the opposite lawyer, who happened to be a young lawyer but without ability, the very highest and most fulsome compliments, generally to make a favorable impression on the jury. The application failing on the lawyer, the professional rule too strongly for Lincoln to resist the application, but he tempered the wind before shearing the lamb. After complimenting the young man on his remarkable flow of language, as exhibited in the speech which he had just delivered to the jury, and paying a warm tribute to his good qualities and to those of both his parents Lincoln said:

"But my young friend's gift of words has one serious drawback, which your sentiment, save withdrawn in this case, is interruption the action of his mind. His thinking machine and his talk his appearance don't seem to jibe. When his tongue wanks, his brain quits. He reminds me of a little steamboat that used to run on the Sangamon river. It had a thirty-foot boiler and a five-foot whistle, and every time it whistled it had to stop."—(Philadelphia Ledger.

Joke on a Lawyer.

They are telling a joke on a certain overambitious young lawyer who has not many years of his career from Chicago. He has met with some success and is fast clearing for advice has followed the suggestion made by veterans in all professions that the thicker the dirt on the leather the greater the confidence of the patient in the skill of the man consulted. Not long ago a young woman who is decidedly handsome, but who may boast of little money, came to the young lawyer with a suit, not complicated but of much importance to her. The evidence was in her favor and the suit was won. The lawyer, however, took much credit upon himself for the cleverness in bringing the case to a successful close, and forthwith sent a bill for $1,000.

The next day the young woman called at his office. Mr. J., she said politely, were you really in earnest in proposing to me?

The lawyer looked at her a moment in astonishment and then exclaimed rather excitedly:

"I propose to you, madam! Why, I didn't propose to you!"

"No?" she said calmly. "Well, your letter of yesterday asked me for my promise, and I thought you perhaps have the grace to take me with it."

The bill was cut to $500.—(Omaha Bee.

As to the Conjunction But.

The Mail Manual and Postal Guide has finally settled the question whether a sentence may begin with a conjunction. They cannot distract the mind of the friend and lover with the English language from his sacred duty and the dollar. As little wars on hero are solemnly set to rights as built to keep the flies from the cherry trees so these futile janitors of the tongue that Shakespeare spoke divert their cudgels and brushes at any wretch of a verb, dangling foot of a word or construction that risks them for. While good men do not consider their dignity on their guard. Knowing that they can write on the inside of the roof of the mouth and eat with their right eye, over one shoulder and the hand to pleasant dreams. We are not the first language doctors, by admirable Dorrit, ask us the birds of speech, let us be kind and that there are stronger and more self-sacrificing spirits.

One such spirit speaks these days. 'Tis the lot of the Shah of Persia, reluctantly threading a volume of Macaulay's essays. I contend that the shows a peculiar tenderness for the words but with which he every frequently begins a sentence and not infrequently a paragraph. A blessing on Macaulay's will like use of the word might we often find it a help the spirit was over prompt but it was not good style. A discussion arose as to the merit of the one in beginning a sentence or paragraph with it was decided to call your friend out to the parlor and request that the sun do rise but in the connection above referred to.—Charles Kenyon, New York Smart Set.

Somewhere on the shores of Asiatic or in the limbo of circumnavigating a wretched nigger of pelant, still mumbling his deep lore and suffering from colonic ills regrets the hour when he omitted from his muddled conversations the argument that a sentence must not begin with a conjunction. The poor old fellow knows better now and admits that he had no call to make the law or try to stop the tides of speech with his maddening dogma. Many writers on rhetorical questions have condemned the practice, but condemnations were made to burn. If the old boy had read his Bible here and there examined less he would not have so wandered by the recollection of passages like these.

But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will.

But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

But the end of all things is at hand; be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

But and if ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye.

But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts.

But the word of the Lord endureth forever.

But us no buts. Macaulay had precedent enough. The notion that it is not "good style" to stick your conjunction at the front of your sentence is of incomplete all complete. Still we have no wish or right to command other men's conjunctions. Let everybody put his conjunctions where he thinks they will do the most good and be blessed to end.—(New York Sun.

A VEIN OF YUMO

Those two words do lots of good,
Say so.
You could use them if you would
Say so.
They would help to cheer a friend,
And be your credit in the end.
Say so.

If you love your wife a lot,
Say so.
It would lighten up her heart,
Say so.
Oft intimes 'twould bring a smile,
And it surely worth you while
To say so.

At the time you asked her hand
You said so.
When you placed the golden band,
You said so.
What it all on that has gone,
Why not make the good words last,
And say so.

AMERICANIZED.

Chinese statesmen are slowly becoming Americanized. The new Chinese minister is said to be a baseball crank.—Cripple Creek Mining News.

Missouri will have to enlarge its penitentiaries to accommodate the St. Louis and general assembly boodlers.—(Duluth Herald.

WATCHING COLORADO.

Investors throughout the entire west are watching with interest the renewed activity throughout the entire state of Colorado. Every mining camp in the state is awakening with the dawn of spring and money is pouring in from every direction to assist in the development of properties having real merit.

The anthracite and bituminous coal fields of the state are also receiving some attention from the capitalist; but there is room for all, as they are entitled to.

That doubt Colorado today offers the best opportunity for safe and profitable investment of any state in the union, we consider unchallenged.

ARKANSAS VALLEY APPLES.

Apples never have been respected as they really are in no part of the world, but here is a case where civilization offers a premium. Pecos valley in New Mexico, with an elevation of 3,500 feet, having an apple orchard of 800 acres which in the last year 200 carloads of the finest apples ever grown in the west, and which found a ready sale in eastern markets. This orchard is situated almost entirely from the swarm of insects which are the bane of the growing of fruit such a crazy malady in many parts of the country. The Rocky Ford country will make just as good showing last year as did the Pecos valley in two years more, when thousands of acres of young orchards will vie with in beauty the Arkansas valley orchards as the natural apple region in the west.—Otero County Republican.

POLITICS REFORMERS AND PATRIOTISM.

In all the days of my existence we hotel men have never had such a time. We have seen the rascals turned out of office and we have rejoiced. We have seen the rascals put in office and the rascals come in and we have rejoiced once more. We hotel men don't care what we are in the business for! We are here to accomplish something for the city good men make the business as we are caught with the goods on them. But we don't, that is, we pursue the even tenor of his way, attend to our own business, asking no official favors, and only ask that every guy, whatever he may be swearing off his head, be treated with charity toward all, malice toward none, and with enthusiasm; but what's the use? I have given three dinners, so full of misery that all in the front door, and so have slept in the vestibule on a wire doormat, and I have gotten up in the morning with the word "Welcome" printed on me, but I never could see that I was any better for it.—(Collier's Weekly.

A MARVELOUS METAL.

Marvelous results are expected from experiments just being made with radium. The new metallic substance, which is so rare and precious that it was listed at first at $1,000,000 per pound, but has since been reduced to $500,000. It is said that there are only two pounds of radium now in existence, and only one gram of it, 480 grains, so far has come into the possession of America, the particular owner being a New York electrical engineer. The metal is the discovery of Madame Sklodowska Curie, a Polish woman who is associated with her husband in scientific work in Paris. Radium is a white crystalline powder, a combination of several metals, with an illuminating power that casts the famous Roentgen rays literally in the shade. Its rays it is said, can pierce three feet of iron, take photographs in closed trunks, and burn through metallic cases. So far as is now known, radium retains its full strength perpetually, its rays travel almost as fast as sunlight. Professor Curie, the husband of the discoverer, says he would not dare trust himself in a room with a kilo of pure radium as it would destroy his eyes, burn the skin of his body, and perhaps cause him to die. From carrying a small quantity of it, containing a small bit of the metal under his arm he sustained a burn which was 50 days in healing. Radium is expected to be of wonderful help in surgery and in medical practice generally, and experiments are now in progress to determine its greatest usefulness in this direction.—(Leslie's Weekly.

GENERAL MILES WILL BE IN FOR IT.

Fresh vials of war department wrath may now be poured out on the head of Lieut.-Gen. Miles, whose report on the cruelties practiced by some of our officers in the Philippines has been reluctantly published by the Washington authorities. Gen. Miles groups and summarizes the facts that came to his knowledge in the Philippines, and the result is a statement that is more impressive than any previous publication on the subject.

Gen. Miles did not make these matters the principal object of his investigations in the Philippines, he intimates. If he had any disposition to do so, he did not need to exert himself, for the facts came to him without any effort on his part to obtain them. He practically says that he is merely reporting what all the army people in the Philippines knew. American officers took a company of Filipinos out on an expedition and gave them the choice of revealing the whereabouts of certain insurgents or of being killed, and when the poor creatures did not (probably because they could not) make the desired revelations they were shot. No more hideous charge has been brought against the officers or soldiers of Russia in China, or of Belgium in Africa, or the Turks in Macedonia. And the worst of it is that although Gen. Miles says everybody knew the facts in Manila, the war department at Washington and the partisans in congress and in the Republican newspapers have been displaying a mitigated form of savagery in denouncing as calumniators of the army whoever ventured to say that such cruelties had been practiced.

Gen. Miles exonerates the principal army chiefs in the Philippines from responsibility for the outrages practiced on the Filipinos. But such exoneration only makes the responsibility of the war department more apparent. It is a dark and shameful chapter in the history of benevolent assimilation.—(Hartford Times.
